KEILOR, BOX HILL IN SOCCER NEWS FINALS BID

By LAURIE SCHWAB

The quarter-finals of Victoria's major soccer competition — the Dockerty Cup — will be played at Middle Park and Olympic Park on Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday's games are Box Hill v. Hakoah and Croatia v. Juventus. On Sunday Keilor City will meet Ringwood City and South Melbourne Hellas will clash with Fitzroy Alexander.

Keilor and Box Hill have the chance to prove that the class difference between First Division and State League has narrowed considerably.

Both teams have different styles. Box Hill plays it hard in the English style, and Keilor likes it open so it can exploit its ball-playing skills and its precise team work.

But Keilor's strength does not finish there.

The players are as rugged as any that can be found here and although most of them are under 24, they have played together for about 10 years, so they lack little in experience.

Box Hill is on top of the First Division ladder, and therefore first in line for promotion to State League.

Keilor started as a leading promotion candidate, having missed out by only three points last season.

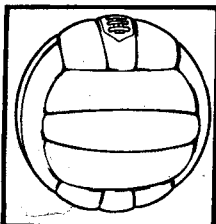

In the last Dockerty Cup round, Box Hill scored a shock 1-0 victory over Melbourne and Keilor beat Geelong side Bell Park 4-0, despite excellent goalkeeping by Harry Rix.

In their most recent League games, Box Hill drew 1-1 with Sunshine City and Keilor beat Mike de Bruyckere's Ringwood United 7-2.

Keilor does not rely on one or two strikers the way Ringwood City does. Eddy Kupicz, Stan Kovacs, Kajik Klain, John Grady, Bob Kupicz, Joe Menary and Stan Klain are all goalscorers and blanketing one of them will make little difference.

Sanchez out for six weeks

John Sanchez

George Cross utility player and Argus Medallist John Sanchez has been suspended by the State League tribunal for six matches.

Sanchez faced the tribunal last Wednesday, charged with having struck Edek Widera and having received his third caution during the match against Polonia.

Sanchez had not been sent off the field, but referee Randall said in his report that Widera had told him he had been hit by Sanchez.

George Cross secretary, Joe Bartolo, said this week his club would appeal against the suspension.

Henry Siwka of Polonia, who had been sent off by Randall during the game against George Cross, was found not guilty of having struck John Pryde.

• Slavia's fiery goalkeeper MIKE O'HARA says . . .

Refs should go back to school

I think referees in Victoria are very poor indeed.

Situations that have arisen during the past three seasons have left me in no doubt that something must be done now to improve the refereeing standard.

It's not the easiest thing in the world to be a referee because he's always the scapegoat when things go wrong but the fact is the referees have only themselves to blame. Their performances on the field simply aren't good enough.

I'll tell you about two situations I recall, which strengthen my argument.

During a Dockerty Cup match between Slavia and Wilhelmia, the defending player in the box was about to play the ball, when a forward came from behind and pushed the defender deliberately.

The referee, instead of giving a free kick to the defender, gave a penalty for obstruction!

In a game against Hakoah, I went for the ball and Mike Clancy obstructed me deliberately. I wrongly retaliated, yet if the referee had been on the ball, he would have given me a free kick.

Instead he awarded a penalty against me. The ref. was clearly too slow on the whistle.

When the FIFA four-step rule for goalkeepers was introduced during the 1968 Ampol Cup series, Victorian referees again looked incompetent.

Here's what happened - the goalie saved a shot, rolled the ball along the ground, picked it up, rolled it along once more, picked it up and kicked it.

You can't do that - you can only roll it along once, yet the referee allowed it. He obviously hadn't studied the rule.

Sworn at

And let's make a law that referees should practice what they preach.

I and other players have been sworn at by referees on the field. This is an offence and if a player were caught at it, he'd be sent off the field or booked. If the referees can't stick to their own rules, they should get out of the game.

I have been repeatedly pulled up for defending myself with my knees when a forward approached at speed.

Am I supposed to be a target for charging forwards? Of course not; you have to defend yourself and the only way to do so is with the knees up.

As an apprentice professional with Luton Town, I was under the wing of former Charlton great Sam Bartram, and his basic goalkeeping technique included keeping the knee high to protect yourself, after taking a high ball.

If it was up to Victorian referees, all goalkeepers would be helpless targets.

Unlike all European refs., their Victorian counterparts give full advantage to forwards, seldom giving defenders, especially goalkeepers, the benefit of the doubt.

Referees are not fit either. Only 50 per cent of them keep up with the play and that includes linesmen. How much do they train, how often and do they train together?

Also I think that linesmen, and to a lesser extent referees, are influenced by the crowd. A lot of referees seem frightened to make the right decision because of crowd disapproval.

Many players have said soccer is going backwards in Victoria. Surely one of the main reasons must be bad refereeing.

I talk a lot on the field and as soon as I open my mouth, the referee tells me to shut it. I've been pulled up just because I've bellored at my full back and that's ludicrous.

Referees should take periodical examinations and if they fail, they should be back to basics.

There should also be a referees' inspector to watch their performances and make reports to a referees' panel. The Victorian inspector should watch games in NSW and vice-versa to make sure all reports are unbiased.

One of the few referees to do the job well was Dave Maitland. What's happened to him? He wasn't an exhibitionist like some. He simply did the job efficiently and correctly.

Mike O'Hara bellows at a team mate who has allowed Juventus' centre forward to break through and score.

MANGOPOULOS, ONE-MAN ATTACK

The strikers

a series on the top forwards of the State League

At 23, Jimmy Mangopoulos is Fitzroy Alexander's most senior player.

Mangopoulos started his career with the club at the age of 13 in the Provisional League and has been a member of the senior team ever since.

He has been Fitzroy's leading scorer almost every year and has played during each of the club's four State League seasons.

This year he's still equal first on the State League scorers' list although he hasn't found the net for four weeks.

He and Slobodan Zoraja of Footscray J.U.S.T. are the only players who have scored two hat-tricks this season.

Mangopoulos is the most valuable member of the Fitzroy team because he's the only one who can score goals regularly.

Since he was slowed down by a knee injury three weeks ago, Alexander has been struggling in attack.

But Mangopoulos is confident he will get back on target. When he does, coach Manny Poulakakis will smile again.

Soccer News asked Mangopoulos how he rated his form this year.

"I think I'm having my best season to date," he said, "and Manny Poulakakis is responsible for it. He had us all in peak form at the start of the season and he's been concentrating on increasing my speed and skills."

25 goals

What's been your previous best season?

As far as goal scoring is concerned, I was most successful in First Division one year when I scored 25. In 1966, I was second highest scorer in State League, with a total of 16 or 17.

How much help are you getting from your team mates; do you think you are having to do too much yourself? I'm quite happy with my fellow forwards. At times I do have to do a lot by myself but when the linkmen are firing, I get tremendous help. I think we lack one brilliant player who is able to lift a team when it's down. That player would have to be a linkman.

How badly has the loss of Fokianos and Melitis affected the team?

We felt the loss of Fokianos more than that of Melitis. Fokianos was a player who could run for 90 minutes and bring the ball up consistently. Newcomer Bigouras is a good player. He knows the game and in one or two games he will show how good he really is.

Alexander a chance this year. How successful do you think the club has been?

I think this is the best season we've had in State League. The team played well from the beginning, which brought in the crowds and helped the club's finances. Internally the club is better than it has been because it has recognised possible dangers earlier than it has in the past.

Manny Poulakakis is the man to whom most credit must go. If it weren't for him we'd be in a bad position. He's the best coach I've ever worked under. Do you feel confident of topping the League goalkeepers' list this season?

I'll try but if I don't win, I think I'll go pretty close. What other forward do you think will issue the biggest challenge?

Bryan Thomson of Juventus or Branko Buljevic of Footscray J.U.S.T. Zoraja has the same number of goals as I have, but I don't think he'll get as close as the others.

Is there any aspect of your game that you are trying to improve?

Yes, I haven't mastered the way to beat the goalkeeper when I'm face to face with him, so I miss a lot of chances. If I can overcome this problem, I think I'll score many more goals.

What do you think is your greatest asset?

My speed. Which defenders do you most dislike playing against?

Billy Rice and Steve Walker. Rice is great at the sliding tackle and always seems to get the ball off me in the last moment. Walker is also a good tackler and a really strong player.

How do you think Alexander will go next season?

We'll be losing Poulakakis and that will be a big blow, so it's hard to say. I reckon we've got the potential to finish at least sixth.

How do you see the future of your club? Alexander needs stronger foundations. The club must concentrate on juniors.

What has given you the biggest thrill during your soccer career?

Being selected for the Victorian under 18 team that went to Adelaide in 1964. I scored about 16 goals during the five matches over there, and I think we won the competition.

Idol

How high is the standard of Victoria's strikers?

Billy Vojtek, Bryan Thomson and Branko Buljevic are as good as any I've seen here.

Did you have a soccer idol when you were a boy?

Yes, my hero in Greece was a centre half in the top league. I don't know if it helped, because I became a forward.

Hospital beds for Polonia?

It would be a wise move if Polonia installed a few hospital beds at its ground in Maribyrnong.

For Polonia's casualty list is longer than that of any other State League club.

In fact at no stage during the season has Polonia been able to field a full-strength team.

Standing on the sidelines during the match against South Melbourne Hellas last Sunday, were star utility player Joe Zurawski, goalkeeper Miroslaw Litwin, linkman or striker, Henry Siwka, left winger Czes Plaskota, linkman Andrew Czapnik, right winger Eddy Wrobel, captain-coach and forward Kaz Kowalec and linkman Edek Widera.

At the last moment, George Orlinski rang to say he had the flu.

Widera, Litwin, Zurawski, Kowalec and Siwka had been injured on previous occasions.

Others who have been on the casualty list are full back Marian Sowula and forward Jimmy Malloy, who is now with Brighton.

Reserve Bogdan Anolok, who has had two senior games, is also injured.

Players were so scarce on Sunday that Polonia had to use a junior in its reserve team, and play full back Sowula on the wing.

Despite the reshuffle, Polonia managed to draw 1-1.

CUP PROTEST UPHELD

The State League tribunal has upheld Ringwood City's appeal over an Armstrong Cup match scheduled to be played last month.

Ringwood City would not take the field for the match because it claimed that its opponent, Juventus, had sent its senior team. The Armstrong Cup series is for reserve teams. The disputed match was finally played on Sunday, with Juventus winning 3-2.

BAYSWATER DANCE

Bayswater Soccer Club is holding a dance at the old Bayswater ground, in Scoresby Road on Saturday, August 8 from 7:30 to midnight.

Light refreshments are provided and the charge is $1.50 per head. Further details are available from Heinz Vollmer, (729-1588).

MIDFIELD DUEL VITAL

From page one

In defence, Keilor has one of the toughest and most determined centre backs in Metropolitan soccer - Billy Szezewuk.

At right back there's seasoned campaigner

Guenter Gerick, who played with Richmond during its State League days and at left back there's the experienced Joe Scarecki.

As a safety-first measure, it's odds-on that

Bob Kupicz will become an additional centre back.

If Keilor's defence can handle Wim Spieker-mann, Brian Edgley and Freddy Bunce, the game will be decided by the midfield battle between the brilliant David Pygall and Keilor's captain-coach Joe Menary, backed up by Eddy Kupicz.

Four of Keilor's players were in the St. Albans-Olympia side of 1965, which won the Harry Armstrong Reserve Cup, and they'll be eager to get another taste of the big time.

The four are Eddy and Bob Kupicz, Guenter Gerick and Kajik Klain. Box Hill has star strikers in Grant McGregor, John Wilkes, Steve Atkins and old-timer Peter Craig, all spurred on by the mid-field efforts of coach John Brown.

A few weeks ago Don Brownie returned to the team and his link work has made Brown's job easier.

John Young is starring in defence, and is well backed up by solid full backs Norm Voce and Alan Dewar.

Micky Lydon, who used to play with Wilkes for St. Neots in England, had his clearance OK'd last week and if these two recapture the understanding they had back home, they're sure to trouble the Hakoah defence.

Hakoah gained two valuable points in its last two matches and Bobby Robertson, who scored twice last week, might develop into a handy striker.

Yet even if he continues the good work and if Mike

Clarey is in goalscoring form, they'll have a hard task against brilliant goalkeeper John Hagar. Juventus, fresh from its decisive win over second-placed Melbourne, and with the State League flag virtually hanging in its clubrooms, is eager to score a clean sweep this year and won't let Croatia ruin its chances.

No wings

Croatia is being beaten on the wings which means Billy Vojtek has to act as a linkman as well as a striker.

Against Bobby Thomson and George Kinnell, Vojtek's efforts will be futile as will Jimmy Mackay's link work.

Bryan Thomson will be the danger man in Juventus' forward line. Overall, there's no doubt that Juventus will be one of the Cup finalists.

At Olympic Park on Sunday, South Melbourne Hellas will have to improve considerably on its performance against Polonia last week to defeat the determined Fitzroy Alexander.

Jimmy Mangopoulos is overcoming his knee injury and with a little help from Mike Glykokalamos and the improving Aris Bligouras, he could increase his goal tally.

Hellas has no punch in attack. There's no consistent goalscorer and if it weren't for the power of David Gorrie, moving up from midfield, the team would be in real trouble.

The class is better than that of Alexander and if there's anything that will give Hellas victory, this is it.

FAWKNER'S PUSHING JUNIORS

Promotion of junior soccer in the Fawkner district is the aim of Fawkner soccer club.

This week the club strongly urged parents in the area to send their boys to training at Smith's Reserve, Fawkner.

The club's junior secretary, Mr. J. Tonna, said, "Not only can we teach boys to learn soccer, but we humbly believe we can also help them to become better citizens."

Fawkner soccer club is in the Premier Division of the District League and has a senior, reserve and under 14 team.

The senior team is coached by former Slavia player Harry Reinhold and boasts good players in Mario Cosmano, Orlando Pavan, Aldo Vesnaver and team captain Vincent Di L'Olio.

Among new players signed this season are George Masolich from Moreland, Carlo Camera and Lociano Malacaria from Maribyrnong Triestina and Stan Tusek from Princes Park Hercules.

Giant goalkeeper Tony Petrolito, John Karavasilis, Antonio Camiolo and Laurie Quidagnulo all show a lot of promise.

Fawkner's leading officials are president Guis Schipano, manager Frank Schipano and secretary C. Morcato.

The club was formed in 1967 and in its first season finished fifth.

The next year, Fawkner missed out on the title by only one point, finishing second to Fitzroy.

Although near the bottom of the table this season, Fawkner is steering away from the danger zone, having scored three recent wins.

Fawkner's aim is to gain admittance to the Metropolitan League. The club has first class dressing rooms at Smith's Reserve and will petition the council for training lights.

No British bookmaker would take a bet on it: Bobby Charlton will eventually be knighted by the Queen.

He would be the fifth soccer personality to receive such an honor. The other knights are FIFA president Sir Stanley Rous, managers Sir Alf Ramsay and Sir Matt Busby and that all-time great Sir Stanley Matthews.

Star Portrait

Bobby Charlton is probably the greatest English player of modern times. He is certainly the greatest thinker of British football and the brain of the national team and of Manchester United. It often seems as if Charlton is not only planning three or four moves in advance but also anticipating how his opponents will react to his plan.

This ability, combined with perfect technique, and confidence, make him a world-class player who would star in any team.

Charlton's career was almost ended before it really began.

In 1958, when he was only 18 years old, he was on the plane that crashed at Munich airport, killing eight Manchester United players, three officials and eight journalists.

Charlton miraculously escaped serious injury. Since then, he has won everything a player can strive for — the League championship, the Cup, the European Cup and of course the World Cup.

Charlton lives in Lynton, a suburb of Manchester, with his wife Norma and daughters Susanne and Andrea.

The fortune of this man, whose annual income is estimated to be over $30,000, lies secure in stocks and business partnerships.

Unlike his brother Jackie of Leeds United, Bobby does not take an active part in business.

He is quiet and conservative by nature and it's seldom that the Charltons enjoy a night out — except of course on Saturdays after the game.

Charlton, whose favorite sport — after soccer of course — is rugby, is one of the fairest players in the game. This too, is a sign of a true champion.

Hakoah 2,
Croatia 2

(Wixey, 17, Robertson (H) 57, 63, Gelemanovic 71)

In a burst of fast attacking play early in the second half, Hakoah turned a first half deficit into a 2-1 lead.

Bobby Robertson turned in his best performance and scored both goals.

He was a continual menace to Croatia's defence, and had several other attempts that went close.

Hakoah were unlucky not to collect both points, but conceded the first half goal by over emphasis on the off-side trap.

Full back Ray Wixey raced through unchallenged to score.

There was a lack of urgency about most of the play and Hakoah failed to take advantage of a strong wind.

Brian Williams, Hugh Gunn and Billie McArthur defended superbly in this period.

The second half was a different story. Hakoah came out full of determination and play speeded up.

Robertson through for the equaliser, followed six minutes later by a brilliant goal which put Hakoah ahead.

Gordon Douglas had a great game in defence. He and Alan Stenhouse gave John O'Neill tremendous support in holding Croatia's attack at bay.

Hakoah hit the woodwork twice. One free kick in the first half hit the underside of the bar and was scrambled away.

Jimmy McKay gave his usual polished, constructive display, but Croatia's forward line did not function well.

Terry Lane was active on Hakoah's left wing and Steve Gadsby gave him plenty of support.

Although by no means a classic this game was full of interest, particularly in the second half.

Ten minutes from the end, Robertson was injured in a tackle and Cameron came on in his place.

Hakoah are showing signs of settling down and with a little more punch up front, should show improved results.

HAKOAH: Henderson, Douglas, Baker, Stenhouse, O'Neill, Gadsby, Fry, Robertson, Clary, Walsky, Lane. Coach Jim Adam. Cameron replaced Robertson after 80 minutes.

CROATIA: Voigt, Wixey, Gunn, Gelemanovic, Williams, McArthur, McIntyre, Rajah, Vojtek, McKay, Armour. Coach Mike Rice.

George Yelland

Juventus 3,

(Kinnell 25, Frost Pocock)

Bobby Thomson

This win left no doubt about the might of Juventus.

The class difference between the League leader and second-placed Melbourne was evident all over the field.

Veteran Bobby Thomson, who took over George Kinnell's role as general in defence, demoralised Billy Rogers by fair means or foul and beat every other player he came up against. Steve Bleskany couldn't pass Pat Della Rocca and although Ray Pocock had the better of Keith Lakey, there simply wasn't enough in the attack to generate dangerous attacks.

Gareth Salisbury was superb in midfield. There's always a sense of purpose about this player and if he seems to hold the ball too long, it's merely a part of his plan.

For when Salisbury is on the move, an overall pattern emerges, and all his players become part of that pattern.

There was a marked tactical difference between the two teams.

Juventus played a 4-2-2 formation, featuring no wingers, while Melbourne as usual based its game on wing play.

Juventus gained superiority by short-circuiting Melbourne's three-man striking machine and taking charge of midfield.

Alistair Scott had Dino DeMarchi covered but as a result Melbourne's link play suffered.

Ron Frost was a dangerous Melbourne but did not count on. Playing very deep, he often burst forward to threaten the goal. In the 22nd minute he missed narrowly and eight minutes from half time he scored Juventus' second goal.

JUVENTUS: Reilly, Della Rocca, Kinnell, R. Thomson, Lakey, Frost, Salisbury, Goodwin, Webster, B. Thomson, DeMarchi (sub. Sandison), 63. Coach Tony Soggi.

MELBOURNE: Gerrard, McDaid, Juhass, Szabo (sub. Dobbings), 61. McGowan, Scott, Kerr, Wallace, Pocock, Rogers, Bleskany, Coach Zvonimir Rasic.

Votes: Juventus: 3. R. Thomson, 2. Salisbury, 1. Frost, 1. Melbourne: 3. McGowan, 1. Juhass, 1. Wallace.

The team is hoping to make another appearance at Ballam Park on September 20.

It's record in the league this year was: 13 wins, no draws, one loss, 88 goals scored, two conceded and 26 points. The team won the championship by five points.

John Natoli was a budding Aussie Rules player not long ago but he made the switch and is now being moulded into a useful goal-keeper by Fawkner under 14 coach Aldo Vesnaver.

John is one of the many stars in the Fawkner team, which currently holds second position on the ladder.

Among other of its future stars are Jim Pantzopoulos, Bruno Pesa, Mike Karavasilis, David Tonna, Robert Marcato and under 14 captain Tony Schipano.

August 16 is the date for the Karingal Challenge Shield for under nine's and the Linnell Cup for under 14's.

The under 12 Karingal Shield and the under 11 Des Thomson Trophy will be contested on September 13.

BAYSWATER BEATS ROSANNA

Bayswater High School last week withstood a great fight back by Boronia High to score a 3-2 victory in the final of a secondary schools competition organised by Bayswater United.

Bayswater took control in the first half and headers by Andy Forbes and Chris Baithwaite opened its account.

Another fine goal by Forbes gave the Waters a three goal lead at half time.

After the break, a dramatic change came over the game, with Boronia hammering away at the Bayswater defence.

Goals from Steve Webb and Chris Ogden brought Boronia back into the game but the equaliser did not come.

Much credit for helping to organise this competition goes to Mr. John Wren, the Junior Management Committee and Mr. Percy Didcock, who refereed the series.

There's tense rivalry at Seaford United.

It's not as dramatic as it sounds, for the rivalry takes place when Seaford United takes on Seaford Blacks.

He's a globetrotter

Only nine years old, Stephen Blair of Albion Rovers is already a seasoned campaigner.

Stephen, who is one of the Rover's brightest stars, has played soccer on three continents — Europe, Africa and Australia.

Lightning fast, and boasting good ball control, Stephen is described by his club as "a boy with a big future in soccer."

Stephen is one of the many promising youngsters in the ranks of Albion's juniors.

Fielding under 10, 12, 14 and 16 teams, Albion Rovers juniors were formerly known as South Sunshine.

The boys enjoy the same facilities at Selwyn Park, Sunshine, as the club's seniors, and have their own management committee.

To eliminate transport problems, the club this year purchased a 12-seater bus to drive the boys to and from matches.

The interest focussed on this progressive club has already drawn juniors from as far away as East Keilor and Laverton.

So good has been the response, that Albion may field an additional junior team next season. To make this possible, the club needs men willing to help coach the youngsters.

KARINGAL HAS TOP TWO

Karingal's under nines are renowned for having K. Towers and T. Coukoulis - the most dangerous striking pair in the League.

Their lethal attacking play, combined with a half back line that is almost impassable, has given the team the top spot in the league and a place in the Cup final. Most of the boys were in last season's under eight team, which didn't lose a game and won its league convincingly.

Two join Saints

Two new players are quickly making a name for themselves in St. Albans' under 15 team.

The newcomers are utility player Cvetko Kacicic (right) and centre forward Tony Smitis (left), who's dazzling the crowd with his ball playing skills.

AT 12 HE'S A VETERAN

Twelve-year-old Rajko Grbac (pictured) is a veteran of junior soccer.

Five years ago, in the under 10 Cup final, he scored the game's only goal, which meant victory for his club, Footscray J.U.S.T.

This year, Rajko is playing as centre half for J.U.S.T.'s under 13's and is looking forward to another great Cup final. Rajko was born in Rijeka, Yugoslavia.

FEARED BY FORWARDS

Under 15 forwards aren't strangers to the name Joe Gauci.

Playing at right back for St. Albans' under 15's, Joe is one of the sturdiest defenders in his division and lets few opponents get the better of him.

Joe has developed his skills during a five-year career which looks like extending into senior ranks.

Versatile brothers

Steven Masters

Terry Masters

Terry and Steven Masters of Ringwood City are both all-rounders.

Terry, a member of the under 11 team although he is still under 10, can play almost any position but is happiest at inside left.

Steven hasn't had as much time to move around because he's only eight.

He's playing as centre half at the moment but really prefers to be in goal.

Terry has been chosen for the under 11 Hills District team.

FULL BACK MUST BE TACTICIAN

In modern soccer the role of the full back has become probably the most important on the field.

The full back is always facing the play so it is logical that he should be expected to build attacks, create chances for his forwards and even score himself.

The modern full back's role illustrates that in this modern era of soccer the man from behind is playing an increasingly more important part because he must always be transferring defence into offence.

To do his job well, he must be tactically, technically and physically superior to the team's strikers.

Winger

So the full back position is the hardest to fill. In top class soccer a full back must be as fast as the winger he faces and often must act as a winger himself, going down the touchline to take on an opposing full back.

His heading, kicking and tackling must be precise.

Today's winger moves inside as much as outside so if a full back has a weak tackling foot, it will be mercilessly exposed.

Positioning is the most exacting skill a full back must master.

He is always facing the problem of how far to follow the opposing winger.

Some backs are told never to cross the half line or not to go more than say 10 yards over the centre, but this tactic plays into the hands of the deep-lying winger who will be free to start attack after attack.

The only answer to a deep-lying winger is for your own winger to mark him.

When facing two opponents, a defender

John McDaid of Melbourne.

Coaching Hints

By Zvonimir Rasic

must never rush rashly towards the one with the ball but rather hold off and slow up the attack.

Another main point is not to allow the winger to run behind you when a different player is coming through with the ball.

It is far better to turn and run back with the winger in an attempt to keep both attackers and the ball in view.

A great fault of young backs is to be pulled towards the ball. This is most dangerous when the opposing winger is about to make a high cross, for if the back is pulled out too far, he leaves one or two unmarked men behind him.

A full back must develop an understanding with his goalkeeper to drop back onto the goal line when the keeper goes out to catch or punch a high ball.

When a corner is being taken the back should start on the goal line and move out only when he is sure the goalkeeper is staying at home.

If a defence wants to succeed against a well-organised attack it needs good understanding between two, three or more full backs.

All attacks are based on team play so defenders are forced to play the same way. They must help each other.

Before they can combine as a unit they must know all the elements of individual defensive play.

A full back's closest co-operation must be with the player next to him yet this doesn't exclude defenders further away from taking part in the movement.

Defenders must correctly judge which opposing player is the most dangerous scorer in any given situation and concentrate on marking him.

Positioning

They must also judge which part of the goal mouth is most susceptible during an attack and cover accordingly.

Correct positioning and understanding between backs are most important for a successful defence.

But above all, full backs must be flexible and versatile.

The Brazilian national team of 1958 to 1966 had a brilliant linkman called Zito.

Yet the full back, Djalmar Santos was so versatile that at any stage during the game, he could take over the link role and allow Zito to have a rest in defence.

This is what will be expected from all backs for there is no human being who can play the role of a linkman for 90 minutes under full pressure.

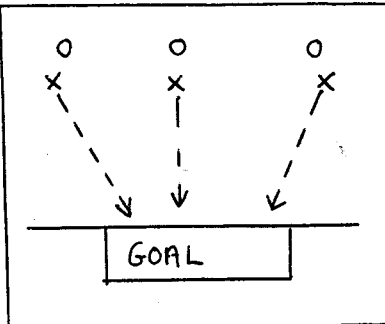

Therefore, all-rounders are needed who can switch to that position during a game. Another good example is Cooper of Leeds United -- you've seen him often on TV -- who, as an overlapping player, is in the attacking action more often than the Leeds strikers.

And there's Schnellinger of West Germany, as well as Facchetti of Italy, who, a few years ago, was among Italy's top five goalscorers, although playing in defence.

The only examples of local attacking full backs are Drago Utjesenovic and Milenko Ruzmir of Footscray J.U.S.T. and John McDaid of Melbourne.

Utjesenovic is the best of them. During half of last season he scored

In a situation like this, the forwards (O) can easily beat the defenders (X) and have a clear path to goal. Instead of tackling the forwards, the defenders must retreat along the dotted arrows, and cover the goal mouth, which is a smaller area than they have to contend with upfield.

Drago Utjesenovic (left) during one of his raids on goal. This time however, Heinz Steinmann of Werder Bremen clears the ball.

five goals and this year he has already notched two.

There are certain defensive systems that can be played.

These are zone defence, man to man marking and a combination of the two.

Which system a team adopts depends upon the ability of its players.

In the 1958 World Cup in Sweden, the Brazilian coach decided to play zone defence, knowing that his defenders Santos, Bellini and Nilton Santos were a bit slow in turning.

The coach told the backs to retreat once the opponents had won the ball upfield but on one occasion Djalmar Santos forgot the instruction and moved up to attack over the centre line.

France's Fontaine, the top scorer of the tournament, seized the opportunity to break through, run past the defence and score.

Realising they had made the mistake, it never happened again.

This shows tactics are very important, so defenders must have tactical knowledge. A forward can afford to make a mistake -- a defender cannot.

Backs must learn to turn quickly. They must be taught to face an opponent sideways, instead of face on, so that they won't be caught flat footed and they must learn to meet the ball except when they face an opponent in the centre of the ground, and are forced to retreat.

Specific elements that full backs should practice are:

Different methods of winning the ball, especially when the opponent is moving to the side;

tackling first-time; long clearances after turning or diving;

hard heading towards the touchline;

accurate head passing; running to the middle and clearing with a long kick after executing a half turn;

clearing the ball from the goal line with different parts of the body; long diagonals from one side to the other;

different ways of receiving the ball, with the emphasis on passing it as quickly as possible;

passing to the winger or centre forward from the penalty area, trying to start a counter attack; accurate passing to the goalkeeper; driving the ball along the touchline;

tackling and dribbling; running towards the opposing goal, centring and shooting at goal.

Skills, height, will power, speed, strength and concentration are all important in making a successful full back.

If any of these qualities are missing, the full back will not be complete.

It's Andre's best season

Andre Linnell of Karingal's under 12's is having his best season yet and is one to watch for the future.

A half back, born in England, Andre started his soccer career with Frankston City when he was nine years old, and joined Karingal when the club was formed in 1968. He has a strong shot and can split a defence wide open with his speed.

Two other outstanding Karingal players are under 11's Brett Tongue and Robert Canning.

Brett is a good left winger with excellent potential and he knows what team play is all about.

Robert also has a bright future. A talented player who can use either foot, he is in his first year with the club.

FROM GOALIE TO WINGER

Brett O'loughlin won fame in Seaford's goal during the first half of the 1969 season, yet he was unhappy in the position.

Now he has found his niche on the wing or at wing half. He's still playing as well as ever and is enjoying it more.

Brett joined Seaford upon its formation early last year and is a member of the club's under 12 team.

Melbourne 1

B. Thomson 71, (86)

Gareth Salisbury

Billed as the 'Game of the Year,' this contest failed to live up to expectations.

It was, by no means, a complete flop. There was much to interest and even a little to excite the season's biggest Saturday afternoon crowd.

The football purist had to be satisfied with meagre results.

Crowded, middle of the field play, some shocking passing and a lot of bad kicking took the edge off the game.

Juventus coasted to an easy victory. The sheer professionalism of Bobby Thomson and George Kinnell, tore Melbourne's defence apart and gave Juventus forwards many opportunities, most of which were wasted.

Frankly, the much-vaunted Melbourne side fell flat on its back. Only Bill McGowan and Adrian Juhász showed to advantage in defence.

Szabo, Scott, Keri and others were sadly out of touch. Even Tom Gerrard committed a bad blunder which gave Juventus their second goal.

Ray Pocock was energetic, tried all afternoon and really fought for the ball, but lacked lift.

He was on hand to score a neat consolation goal from Leskany's well judged pass, late in the game.

Gareth Salisbury and Jack Goodwin did a lot of good spadework. Salisbury, in particular, a bundle of dash and energy.

Little can be said for the back. Webster was its veliest member and had creative ideas.

What has happened to Ryan Thomson? For most of the game he ran round in circles like a "chook" with his head chopped off.

The goal he scored, he could hardly have missed and he fumbled several gifted opportunities.

With the promptings and service provided by Kinnell, Thomson, Della Rocca and company, Juventus should score a bucket full of goals in most games.

Ringwood 2, Fitzroy 0

(Spiekermann 25, Pygall 85)

Ringwood's power-packed attack clicked back into form with a first half display that had Fitzroy reeling.

Freddie Bunce led Taki Xanthopoulos on a merry chase, although the chunky full back often made things worse by foraging up field, leaving big gaps to be exploited.

Captain-coach Brian Edgley, back after illness, added some neat touches and joined with big Wim Spiekermann in forming an effective trio.

Fitzroy were weakened by the absence of Valtassanis and the "Cannonball Kid" Dolanitis, both dropped by their tough coach Manny Poulakakis for infringement of club rules.

Glennie was out injured. But Poulakakis has a team of real "battlers" and aided by a vociferous bunch of supporters who also "battled" for 90 minutes they make a formidable combination that takes some stopping.

But Ringwood were equal to the task. Van Edmond, pulled off the save of the match when clearly unsighted and the two "babes" Bailey and Bens took much of the sting from Fitzroy's sallies.

Ward and Adam clamped an iron grip on the middle and never wavered, even during the opening stages of the second half when Fitzroy seemed likely to get on top.

Vim Kriafis and Peter Selfe were tireless in the seemingly punch-drunk Fitzroy defence and John Kennedy, looking like a refugee from a fashion parade in a bright stripe, gave a lively performance and succeeded in keeping the score always within challenging distance.

A fault that Fitzroy must correct is their constant attempt to set up a new Greek National Theatre. This play acting distracts from the single-minded determination needed to change them into a winning team and kids nobody, least of all refs. like Finnegan.

Man of the match? It has to be Dave Pygall. Another superb performance suitably sealed by a brilliant goal.

That Pygall does not rate the Victorian squad is astounding. He is the best and most consistent mid-field artist in Melbourne and arguably the best in Australia.

FITZROY: Kennedy, Xanthopoulos, Tiktikakis, Glykokalamos Kriafis, Selfe, Mangopoulos, K. Xanthopoulos, Papagrigoriou, Bligouris, Rakovalis for Mangopoulos mins.

RINGWOOD: Van Edmond, Bailey, Bens, Pygall, Ward, Adam, Campbell, Edgley, Spiekermann, Bunce.

Votes: Fitzroy: 3. Kriafis, 2. Kennedy, 1. Glykokalamos. Ringwood: 3. Pygall, 2. Bunce, 1. Ward.

Mike Olinowski

Polonia 1, Sth. Melb. 1

(Gorrie 15, Marmur (P) 76)

Turning on one of the greatest individual performances seen this season, Polonia's Mike Olinowski sparked a second-half recovery that gave his team an unexpected draw and sent South Melbourne sliding out of the four.

Olinowski was never beaten, although he was hit by everything South Melbourne could produce.

In the first half he provided faultless cover for stopper Eddy Marmur and when Marmur moved into attack after the break, he suddenly had twice as much work to do and handled the responsibility like a world-class star.

I have seen coaches make many desperate moves in an effort to save a game but none have worked out better than putting big Marmur into attack.

The heavyweight couldn't be shifted off the ball once he'd latched onto it and was unlucky to hit the post with Stephens beaten, before scoring in the 76th minute.

Polonia had so many injuries (see page two) that it had to field reserves Jaworski, Jersey Blank, Szalinski and Barney Klimecki and play full back Marian Sowula on the right wing.

From the kick-off, David Gorrie, Ernie Ackley, and Jimmy Pyrgolios did as they liked in midfield and their drive allowed the forwards to blast away at goal.

But the strikers couldn't get through so it was left to Gorrie to come from behind and send a hard shot through Szalinski's hands to give Hellas a 1-0 lead at half time.

POLONIA: Szalinski; Knot, Olinowski, Marmur, Blank, Czernecki, Closs, Jaworski, Sowula, Konopia, Klimecki (sub. Durski 59). Coach Kaz Kowalec.

SOUTH MELBOURNE: Stephens, High, Bedford, Walker, Rutherford; Pyrgolios, Gorrie, Ackley, Armstrong, Marshall, Gould, Coach Vic Janczyk.

Votes: Polonia: 3. Olinowski, 2. Marmur, 1. Knot. South Melbourne: 3. Gorrie, 2. Ackley, 1. Rutherford.

Geo. Cross 2, Slavia 0

(Epifano 60, Constantinidis 71)

Slavia's lack of scoring power was once again evident in a poor game at Olympic Park on Sunday.

Under new coach Ken Kontra, Slavia is bringing the ball forward more efficiently but once the lead up work is done, there is no one to cap it off.

Kontra tried to bolster his forward line through Sandy Jones but George Train and Brian Adam played poorly, so Jones had no support.

George Cross was the better side because it could capitalise on its opportunities.

Jimmy Smart had a good day and would have scored had it not been for Mike O'Hara, and Dario Epifano, although closely marked by Jim Train, did enough to give his side victory.

Both teams were steady in defence and recovered quickly but there was little constructive soccer in midfield.

Late in the game Slavia fought back strongly but all shots were capably handled by Lou Kastner in goal.

Both teams desperately need a brainy midfield general who can direct play and inspire his team mates.

Stars of the match were Slavia's centre back Tony Zanatta and George Cross right back Joe Makin.

Cross reserve Constantinidis, who replaced Kevin Walker in the second half, had a good debut, scoring Cross' second goal from an opportunity provided by Epifano.

Slavia left back Zoran Lazarevic, who came to the club from Prahran in exchange for Ian Livingstone, played another sound game and should develop into a fine defender.

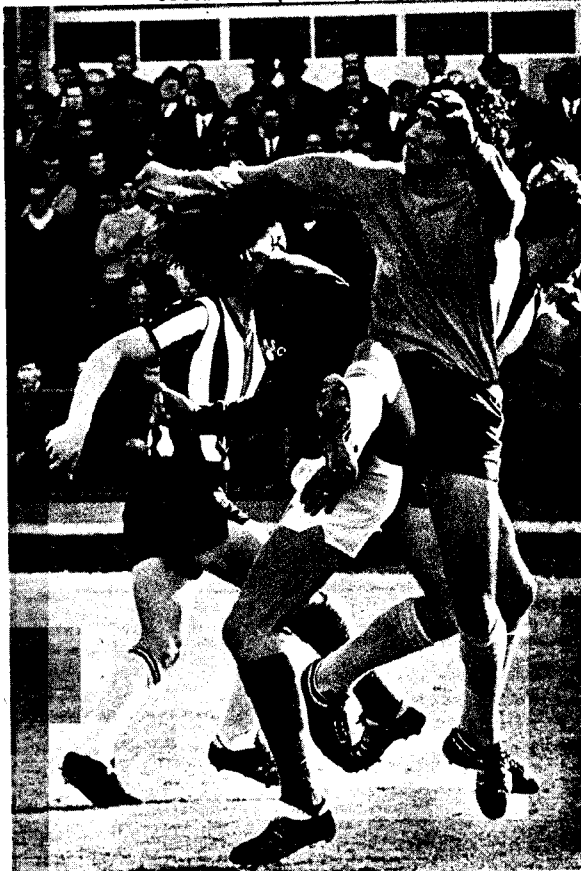

Cross newcomer John Sharp continued to improve in midfield.

GEORGE CROSS: Kastner, Makin, Pryde, Ricks, McLachlan, Friedberg, Sharp, Smart, Walker (sub. Constantinidis, 62), Gardiner, Epifano. Coach Tommy Robertson.

SLAVIA: O'Hara, Train, Zanatta, Lazarevic, McCallum, Schleicher, Kenney, Adam, Jones, Train, Paul. Coach Ken Kontra.

Votes: George Cross: 3. Makin, 2. Sharp, 1. Epifano. Slavia: 3. Zanatta, 2. Lazarevic, 1. Train.

Cobram conquered them this time and the score of 5-1 was the biggest registered against them this season.

Even the return of top scoring Tudor could not save them from the power of top side Cobram.

Wangaratta had their fourth, and biggest win. It lifted them from the bottom and they rose above Denilquin, Benalla and King Valley.

BALLARAT, GEELONG

As forecast, Timkens have folded and their results have been deleted from the competition.

Another 2-0 victory has given Hamlyn Rangers a two point lead in division one.

They appear well set to take off the 1970 championship.

Because North Geelong turned up without the referee, the referee refused to start the game at Ballarat.

In the reserves game, a North Geelong player was ordered off.

When the player refused to leave the field, the referee had no option but to abandon the game.

Both cases will come before the I. & D. Committee this week.

In second division, Geelong and Geelong City are out on their own, in the fight for this season's honors.

Corio are racing away with the under 17 competition. North United in the under 14's and North United A in the under 12's appear to have winning leads in their respective Leagues.

CLAYTON, HEIDELBERG IN SHOCK WINS

Outstanding performances in Metropolitan matches were largely confined to Division Three, where Clayton and Heidelberg registered impressive away victories.

Victorian Metropolitan matches are proving happy hunting grounds for pools punters. Six of the 24 games ended in draws and every team has registered at least one.

Bayswater are the draw specialists and broke even for the eighth time in 15 games. Elwood Austria faltered again and dropped a valuable point to St. Albans.

Box Hill were shocked when a makeshift Sunshine City held them to a draw at Wembley Park. Coburg dropped a point, in impossible playing conditions at Cole Reserve, and are now under pressure to maintain their promotion challenge, in division three. Brighton took another step towards safety when they defeated Waverley 2-1.

Eltham came a cropper at Doncaster. They finished with 10 men when Mickey Lester was sent off for repeated dissent. There were claims that three Doncaster goals were very much off-side.

Broadmeadows City won again as the result of a sound team effort and Newport came back into promotion calculations with a good win at University.

Sunshine had problems fielding a team at Box Hill. Manny Spiteri and Frankie Mussels were with the under 16 team for their semi-final game against Juventus. Spiteri scored what proved to be the winning goal.

Seventeen-year-old Paul Chreszczyk, who represented Victoria in the under 16 group, two years ago, came into the side.

Spiggie Olszewski, waiting to enter hospital for a cartilage operation, also turned out and Herbie Seenan took over as pivot.

Box Hill missed the scoring potential of Steve Atkins and their attack did not function well.

Sunshine went straight into attack but could not pierce a tight defence. The first half was goalless.

In the 70th minute John Brown was heading for goal when he was pulled down in the penalty area. John Wilkes scored from the spot.

Ten minutes later, Box Hill made the mistake of standing appealing for offside.

Hagar came out of goal to smother a shot but the ball ran lose for Kazi Pietrowski to equalise. Mickie Lydon played his first game for the Hillmen and had a good first half.

He tired later and was replaced by Arthur Castoras, who used to be Oakleigh Athena's leading goal scorer.

In a fairly even, though scrappy game, Grant McGregor, John Brown and John Hagar were best for Box Hill.

Butch Kokoska, Kazi Pietrowski, Herbie Seenan and Micky Bannigan were outstanding in a Sunshine team which never gave up trying.

Altona, badly hit by injuries, contributed to their downfall at Dandenong by presenting Peter Lowen with two easy opportunities.

Lowen is not the type of player to let chances go begging.

Jimmy Ackers, knee injury, Hans Delaman, fractured cheekbone and Tommy Keen, overseas, were all missing from Altona's line up.

Regular goalkeeper, Bobby Rice, was out for Dandenong. He suffered an injury at work and was replaced by Rudi Gebel, 18-year-old reserve keeper, who turned in a useful performance.

Peter Lowen scored the only goal of the first half when he nipped in, to collect a bad pass back and score easily.

Lowen got the ball into the net again but was offside.

Fifteen minutes after the interval, Altona drew level when a hard drive from Steve Herman was too hot to hold and dropped over the line.

Dandenong turned on full pressure and Jimmy Millar hit the post with a cannonball effort.

Peter Lowen hit the goalkeeper with another hard drive before providing Brian Holcombe with the second.

Lowen came again when he screwed one back from the line and into the net.

With five minutes to go he completed his hat-trick.

Jimmy Millar was outstanding for Dandenong.

Peter Lowen and Bill Maley were other players to show up well.

Dave Parker celebrated his 21st birthday with a solid performance.

Steve Herman and Jim Bayliah were best for Altona.

St. Albans played surprisingly well in difficult windy conditions at Elwood.

Austria found the weather conditions troublesome and never produced their fluent brand of soccer.

They missed several good chances and, once again, the forwards must shoulder blame for dropping a point.

Hans Schnepf put Guenter Ganglmeier through to give the home side a 1-0 interval lead.

Straight after half-time, St. Albans applied pressure and equalised within a minute.

From then on the game became scrappy.

With five minutes to go Barry Webb crossed a beautiful ball but Ganglmeier missed a sitter from close range.

Carlo Madi, Eric Lindberg and Ernie Breitwieser were outstanding for St. Albans who fully deserved their point.

John Webb, Cornel Senn and Guenter Ganglmeier served Austria best.

Springvale pressed for most of the first half but finished poorly.

Five minutes before half-time, Richmond broke away for outside right Anton to give them the lead.

Football was generally of a good standard, but both defences were sound.

Bayerl in goal for Richmond gave a great performance but had no chance with Billy Williams' penalty kick.

Following the equaliser, play flowed end to end but no further goals were scored.

Stuart McLachlan in goal, pivot Ernie Gillilan, Billy Williams and John Beesley were Springvale's best players.

Bayerl, Kleintert and Anson served Richmond well.

Keilor City were too fast and accurate for Ringwood United.

Billy Szwczuk returned to the centre half berth after a five-week lay off through injury.

This allowed Kajik Klain to return to the attack and the result was a goal storm.

Following 15 minutes of even exchanges, Stan Klain crossed a ball from the right wing for Stan Kovacs to crack it in from 15 yards.

Two minutes later Kajik Klain crossed perfectly from the left wing. Eddy Kupicz did the rest.

Ten minutes before the interval Kupicz slammed home his second.

Joe Menary started it with a long raking run through to Klain, who transferred it to Kupicz and Kellor led 3-0.

As half-time approached Ringwood fought back to score a great goal from a right wing cross.

The second half opened with pressure from Ringwood but Kellor steadied.

When Eddy Kupicz was brought down in the penalty area, Stan Kovacs made it 4-1 from the spot.

Klain to Joe Skarecki and on to Kupicz who completed his hat-trick with a bullet-like drive.

Stan Kovacs completed his hat-trick when he shot home, from point blank range, a Stan Klain centre.

Ringwood never gave up and scored a clever goal to make it 6-2 but five minutes later Klain took a pass from Kovacs to complete a resounding win which will give Kellor confidence for their Dockett Cup clash with Wilhelmina.

Keilor City's under 17 team travelled to Greensborough for their semi-final with Juventus and were beaten by a penalty kick in extra time.

Frankston City kept up their challenge for leadership of Division Two with a resounding victory over Triestina on the rough surface of Campbell Reserve.

For 20 minutes it was a good even game.

At the 25 minute mark Trevor Parry darted down the wing, passed to Albie Matthews, who placed the ball accurately between two defenders for Alan Parrot to score.

Seven minutes later Parrot cut in from the right.

His low hard drive was lashed at by Soussini and the ball sliced into the net.

Two minutes before the interval, a long high ball was booted down field, bounced awkwardly and over the advancing goalie to make it 1-2.

Frankston took a while to settle down but then turned on the pressure.

Albie Matthews collected a loose ball and flashed in a sizzling drive from 30 yards to make it 1-3.

Alan Parrot and Trevor Parry added further goals.

Frankston's forwards hit the woodwork several times and finished well on top.

Brian Finch got a nasty knock on the thigh and was replaced by Gerry Pask.

Frankston played the last 10 minutes with 10 men when Ronnie Cummings went off with a badly bruised foot.

Alan Parrot celebrated the safe arrival of new baby son Adam, the previous Tuesday, with an outstanding display.

Kurt Schroeder, Albie Matthews and Billie Houston were other notable players in a sound combination.

Albion Rovers made no mistake in their game with Princes Park Hercules.

They have been playing consistently good soccer but falling down in front of goal.

Last week the attack clicked and they overcame Hercules. John Stuart scored a hat trick and Tommy Cree netted the fourth.

Two other efforts found the net but were nullified by off-side. Jim Munro, Cree and Stuart were outstanding for Albion.

They will miss the consistent Tony Greig who leaves to take up a post in New Guinea. He will be away six months.

Brighton gave a solid and competent display when they defeated Waverley 2-1 last week. High wind spoiled a lot of good football.

After 15 minutes Harry Richmond finished off a Dave King corner that was swinging into goal.

The ball screamed into the net from 40 yards. Five minutes later Dave Breslin met a clearance on the half volley. The ball sailed into the net from 40 yards.

The second half was cut and thrust but no goals came. Brighton used ground passes whilst Waverley floated long high balls in the wind.

Dave Breslin, Pat Hughes and Dave Campbell gave fine service in a Brighton side which is improving week by week.

Sandringham gave a disappointing display to go down 3-0 in a rough, tough game at Green Gully which left the referee busy.

Ian Young, who joined Sandy as a forward, gave a magnificent exhibition in goal.

Torril play caused the referee to "book" three players in the first 20 minutes.

Green Gully swept into attack and were three up at half-time. A converted penalty, 10 minutes into the second half, made it 4-0.

Sandringham never looked like scoring and were reduced to 10 men when Mick Grange received a kick in the eye. Best for Sandringham were Young, George Karamoskos and Tom Dimmock.

Yallourn defeated Oakleigh Athena, but not without a struggle. They missed a penalty when Roy Ainsworth shot straight at the goalkeeper.

Athena took the lead when Yallourn's defence got in a tangle and the equaliser did not come until the 88th minute.

A throw in by Anderson was flashed into the net by John Szabo. Only 18 minutes remained when a free kick by Anderson found Szabo to make it 2-1.

Two minutes later, an Anderson corner found Ainsworth's head to make it 3-1.

A last minute penalty by John Szabo, after Linton Planner was brought down heavily, gave him his hat trick and Yallourn a flattening victory.

A gale force, cross field wind made good soccer impossible at Cole Reserve.

Moreland took the lead when a long shot went in off the upright. Fifteen minutes later George Timolin down the wing and crossed a hard ball which flew into the net off a defender.

Play was very scrappy due to conditions and neither side could score in the second half.

Sammy Crooks saved well on one or two occasions and John Yelland headed one off the goal line.

George Malcolm had a great shot well saved at the other end. Coburg were without three key men. Bobby Malcolm was down with 'flu', Arthur Bolton and Graham Watson were serving suspension. All three should be back next week.

Best players were John Yelland, Ted Tebbutt, Cec Earley and George Malcolm.

Clayton were cock-a-hoop after their shock win at Ballarat. In a see-saw game, the result was in doubt to the final whistle.

Time was running out when Joe Davidson collected a long clearance, ran through on his own, and gleefully smashed home the winning goal.

This victory should put renewed zest into Clayton's fight to avoid relegation.

Just before the interval, Joe Davidson sent in a hard shot which the goalkeeper dropped and the ball rolled over the line to give Clayton a 3-2 half-time lead.

After the interval it was all Ballarat. They forced several corners before once more drawing level.

Time was running out when Joe Davidson collected a long clearance, ran through on his own, and gleefully smashed home the winning goal.

This victory should put renewed zest into Clayton's fight to avoid relegation.

Hard, forceful play by Heidelberg, coupled with fine team work brought another shock win when they downed Western Suburbs.

In the third minute Andrew Cameron took a pass from Donald Clark to put Heidelberg ahead with a great cross shot.

This stung Western Suburbs into attack and within a few minutes they had equalised.

The game became heated and when David Brett brought George Maykousis down heavily, he received marching orders.

Shortly afterwards, Cameron chipped the ball over the packed defence for Don Clark to head Heidelberg into the lead again.

Western Suburbs fought back and Mandel brought them half-time equality when he took a long 'half down the middle to score

Western Suburbs fought back, on the resumption but Jimmy Dale stuck close to dangerous Mandel and this was a lot of sting out of their attack.

Guenter Mandel floated a corner over which Jimmy Lillios handled.

Donald Clark slammed home the spot kick and Heidelberg finished strongly to gain a merited victory.

Heidelberg's best players were Andrew Cameron and Donald Clark.

Jimmy Kypirtidis, George Maykousis and Sammy Kagioglou were best for Western Suburbs.

Park Rangers maintained steady pressure from the start and were unfortunate to be a goal down when John Hemial scored from the penalty spot, after a Fernree Gully player had been pushed.

Five minutes later, Dennis Ruocroft brought off a great save in Ranger's goal.

Fernree Gully went to a shock half-time lead of two goals when a long speculative shot skidded along the turf and landed in the far corner of the net.

Rangers went into all out attack in the second half.

Bobby Whiteside took the ball through and let loose a tremendous drive which hit the post.

In the next minute, Neil Robertson scored with a perfect header, following a corner kick.

Best man on the ground was Bobby Whiteside.

Neil Robertson, Ken Mitchell and Dave Newton gave good support.

Fernree Gully's strength lay in a competent half back line.

Mooroolbark easily defeated Croynod by three clear goals.

It was not a good game.

Troically, Joe Kinwell scored two of the goals against the old 'club. Alan Irving got the other.

Good news for Croynod is that ace marksman Doug Seal is back having recovered from his injury.

He scored two goals for the reserves in their great draw with top side Mooroolbark on Saturday.

John Howard, Jimmy Johnson and Tony Alltop were Mooroolbark's only Peter Mihaley stood out for Croynod.

Bayswater and Chelsea spoke highly of referee Ransom and his St. Kilda Saturday in their scoreless draw.

Jimmy Logan played another great game.

Dave Waitland played only his third game in goal. He gave a masterly display and has yet to concede a goal.

Bayswater too, had an outstanding keeper. Bernie Eastham has only played in that position for seven minutes, but has the hall mark of a future star.

He showed outstanding reflexes against Chelsea and was in the cup game against Box Hill.

Arthur Garnett had a fine game but missed an easy opportunity early in the second half.

It is worthy of mention that this energetic and talented youngster played against Western Suburbs the previous Saturday for Boroia High School Sunday morning, and another great game in the afternoon against Box Hill.
